

INTERNSHIP REPORT
ON
COMMUNITY SERVICE AND SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT
AT
NEEV SHAKTI SANSTHA

Submitted By: Keshav Agarwal

Enrollment No.: 25SCS1003001000

Course: B.Tech CSE – AI & ML with IBM

Year/Semester: 2nd Year, 3rd Semester

University: IILM University

Internship Role: Community Service Intern

Duration: 22 July 2026 – 13 August 2026

Total Hours: 60 Hours

CERTIFICATE OF COMPLETION

Declaration by Student

I, Keshav Agarwal, a student of B.Tech CSE – AI & ML with IBM at IILM University, hereby declare that this internship report titled “Community Service and Social Development at Neev Shakti Sanstha” is my own original account of the work and learning undertaken by me during the internship period. This report is submitted in partial fulfilment of the academic requirements of my course and has not been submitted elsewhere for the award of any degree, diploma or similar recognition.

Name: Keshav Agarwal

Enrollment No.: 25SCS1003001000

University: IILM University

Acknowledgement

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to IILM University for providing me the opportunity to undertake this internship as part of my academic curriculum, and to the faculty for their guidance and support throughout this period.

I am equally thankful to Neev Shakti Sanstha for welcoming me into their team and giving me the opportunity to be a part of their meaningful work. My sincere thanks go to the staff and mentors at the NGO who patiently guided me, shared their knowledge, and helped me understand the practical aspects of community service and social development.

I am also grateful to the beneficiaries and community members who welcomed me during various activities and made this internship a truly enriching and humbling experience. This internship has been a valuable step in my personal and professional growth.

About Neev Shakti Sanstha

Neev Shakti Sanstha is a non-governmental organisation (NGO) dedicated to empowering persons with disabilities by promoting inclusion, equal opportunities, and independent living. The organisation works towards improving the quality of life of its beneficiaries through education, skill development, awareness programs, community participation, and support in accessing government welfare schemes. During my internship, I had the opportunity to observe the NGO's efforts in creating a more inclusive and supportive society.

Key Areas of Work

- Empowering persons with disabilities through education and skill development.
- Creating awareness about disability rights and social inclusion.
- Assisting beneficiaries in obtaining UDID Cards, Aadhaar Cards, disability certificates, pensions, and other government welfare benefits.
- Organising educational, recreational, and community engagement activities.
- Conducting awareness campaigns, cleanliness drives, and environmental initiatives.
- Promoting sustainable practices through activities such as Best Out of Waste.
- Conducting household surveys and data analysis to identify community needs and improve welfare services.
- Encouraging self-employment and livelihood opportunities for beneficiaries.
- Supporting rehabilitation, accessibility, and equal participation in society.
- Working with volunteers, students, and community members to create a positive social impact.

Figure 1: A Neev Shakti Sanstha community outreach stall organised with the district administration to promote disability inclusion and welfare access.

Internship Objectives

The internship at Neev Shakti Sanstha was undertaken with the objective of gaining practical exposure to community service, disability inclusion, and the functioning of a non-governmental organisation. It aimed to bridge the gap between theoretical knowledge and real-world social work through direct interaction with beneficiaries and participation in the NGO's ongoing initiatives.

- To understand the mission and working model of Neev Shakti Sanstha.
- To gain practical knowledge of disability inclusion and community welfare.
- To interact with beneficiaries and understand their social and economic needs.
- To participate in awareness campaigns and community outreach activities.
- To support educational, recreational, and skill-development activities.
- To contribute to environmental initiatives such as cleanliness drives and sustainable practices.
- To support survey data organisation, analysis, and report preparation.
- To develop communication, teamwork, leadership, and problem-solving skills.
- To understand the importance of empathy, inclusion, and social responsibility in community development.

Role and Responsibilities

As a Community Service Intern, my role primarily involved supporting the NGO's ongoing community development activities rather than any technical work. My key responsibilities included:

- Assisting NGO staff during orientation, awareness sessions, and outreach programs.
- Interacting with beneficiaries and supporting educational and recreational sessions.
- Participating in awareness campaigns, poster-making, and the Best Out of Waste activity.
- Taking part in a community cleanliness drive and related environmental activities.
- Accompanying the NGO team on a beneficiary field visit.
- Assisting in organising and reviewing household survey data collected by the NGO.
- Supporting basic documentation and preparation of activity-related reports.

Week 1 – Orientation and NGO Immersion

Duration: 22 July 2026 – 26 July 2026

Introduction and Activities

The first week of my internship at Neev Shakti Sanstha was dedicated to orientation and becoming familiar with the organisation's day-to-day operations. I was welcomed by the NGO team and given an overview of its mission, ongoing projects, and its commitment to improving the lives of persons with disabilities. I attended an orientation session covering the NGO's history and the various services it provides, and visited different sections of the NGO to observe how staff coordinate educational support, counselling, and welfare services.

One of the most meaningful parts of the week was interacting directly with beneficiaries and assisting them during learning sessions and recreational activities. I helped encourage participation in simple exercises and games, which gave me a first-hand view of how such activities build confidence, communication, and social interaction among beneficiaries.

Observations and Learning Outcomes

I observed that every beneficiary was treated with patience, respect, and dignity by the staff, who focused on building confidence and independence rather than offering only basic assistance. Through these interactions, I learned the value of empathy, active listening, and effective communication, and gained a much better understanding of disability inclusion and community engagement than I had from theoretical study alone.

Skills Developed

- Communication and Interpersonal Skills
- Observation and Analytical Thinking
- Teamwork and Adaptability
- Empathy and Compassion

Weekly Reflection

Week 1 laid a strong foundation for the rest of my internship. Interacting directly with beneficiaries changed my understanding of what true inclusion means — not just providing services, but ensuring respect, equal opportunity, and independence for every individual.

Figure 2: Supporting an educational activity, and assisting a beneficiary during a recreational exercise session.

Week 2 – Awareness, Creative Activities and Environmental Sustainability

Duration: 28 July 2026 – 1 August 2026

Activities Performed

The second week focused on awareness and sensitisation activities, environmental sustainability, and creative learning. I took part in sessions highlighting the importance of disability inclusion, education, and environmental conservation, and contributed to the Best Out of Waste activity, where recyclable materials such as paper, cardboard, and plastic bottles were reused to create useful items. I also helped design awareness posters on themes such as inclusion, cleanliness, and environmental responsibility, and supported beneficiaries during a creative session focused on Earth Day awareness.

Observations and Learning Outcomes

I observed that creative activities are highly effective in conveying important social messages, and that beneficiaries showed great enthusiasm while participating in poster-making and art sessions. This week strengthened my understanding of how environmental sustainability and disability inclusion can be promoted together through interactive, community-based activities, and improved my organisational, communication, and teamwork skills.

Skills Developed

- Creativity and Innovation
- Communication and Coordination
- Environmental Awareness
- Teamwork and Collaboration

Weekly Reflection

This week reinforced my belief that meaningful change begins with awareness and active participation, and that even simple, creative initiatives can encourage people to adopt more sustainable and inclusive practices.

Figure 3: Participation in an environmental awareness and creative activity session with beneficiaries.

Week 3 – Cleanliness Drive and Community Engagement

Duration: 3 August 2026 – 7 August 2026

Activities Performed

The third week focused on community service and environmental responsibility. I took part in a cleanliness drive organised by the NGO to promote hygiene and public participation, working alongside fellow volunteers to collect litter and encourage responsible waste disposal in the local area. Alongside this, I continued visiting the NGO and participated in a community outreach event conducted in coordination with the local administration, interacting with beneficiaries and community members and observing how such events support disability inclusion at the community level.

Observations and Learning Outcomes

This week showed me that maintaining a clean environment is a shared responsibility, and that even small collective efforts by volunteers can make a real difference. Continued interaction with beneficiaries and community members further strengthened my communication skills and deepened my understanding of accessibility, inclusion, and equal opportunity.

Skills Developed

- Communication Skills
- Teamwork and Collaboration
- Environmental Awareness
- Social Responsibility

Weekly Reflection

Participating in the cleanliness drive and community engagement activities made me realise that protecting the environment and supporting inclusion both begin with individual responsibility and consistent, collective action.

Figure 4: Participation in a community outreach and engagement event organised with local administration support.

Week 4 – Beneficiary Visit, Survey Data Analysis and Report Preparation

Duration: 8 August 2026 – 13 August 2026

Activities Performed

The final week focused on economic empowerment and evidence-based social work. I accompanied the NGO team on a field visit to interact with beneficiaries and understand the NGO's efforts in supporting livelihood and self-employment opportunities for persons with disabilities, which highlighted the importance of empowering beneficiaries through independence rather than assistance alone.

I also assisted in organising and reviewing household survey data collected by Neev Shakti Sanstha, which included information related to Aadhaar availability, UDID cards, disability status, pension benefits, and employment. My work involved sorting responses, checking records for completeness, and helping prepare a summary of key observations for the NGO's survey report. As a B.Tech CSE – AI & ML student, I found this exercise particularly valuable in appreciating how data organisation, analysis, and documentation support evidence-based decision-making — skills that are directly transferable to my technical field, even though this task itself was carried out manually and did not involve developing any software or technical tool.

Observations and Learning Outcomes

This week deepened my understanding of the relationship between fieldwork and data analysis in community development. I learned that accurate data collection and systematic analysis are essential for NGOs to identify community needs and plan effective welfare interventions.

Skills Developed

- Data Organisation and Analytical Thinking
- Documentation and Report Preparation
- Observation and Critical Thinking
- Community Engagement

Weekly Reflection

This week combined field exposure with analytical work and strengthened my appreciation for research-based social work, showing me how field observations and organised data together contribute to effective welfare programmes.

Figure 5: Accompanying the NGO team during a community and beneficiary field visit.

Skills Acquired

- Communication
- Teamwork and Collaboration
- Leadership
- Problem-Solving
- Time Management
- Observation
- Analytical Thinking
- Data Organisation
- Report Writing and Documentation
- Community Engagement
- Creativity
- Environmental Awareness
- Empathy and Social Responsibility
- Adaptability

Key Learning Outcomes

This internship gave me practical exposure to community service and disability inclusion that went well beyond what I could learn from theory. Interacting with beneficiaries taught me the importance of patience, empathy, and effective communication, while participating in awareness, environmental, and cleanliness activities showed me how collective, community-driven effort can create meaningful social change.

Working with survey data during the final week helped me understand how evidence-based approaches strengthen social work, and reinforced the value of organisation, accuracy, and clear documentation — skills that will benefit me both personally and in my technical studies. Overall, the internship strengthened my sense of social responsibility and gave me a much deeper appreciation of the role NGOs play in building an inclusive and supportive society.

Challenges Faced

During the internship, I faced a few challenges that helped me grow. Communicating effectively with beneficiaries having different needs required patience and careful, sensitive interaction, especially in the initial days. Understanding welfare-related information and helping organise survey data required close attention to detail, as errors or inconsistencies could easily be introduced while handling large amounts of information. Coordinating community activities such as the cleanliness drive and awareness sessions also required good time management and teamwork.

With guidance from the NGO staff and through consistent practice, I was able to overcome these challenges over the course of the internship, which in turn strengthened my confidence, communication, and problem-solving abilities.

Internship Overview

My internship at Neev Shakti Sanstha, undertaken from 22 July 2026 to 13 August 2026 for a total of 60 hours, provided valuable exposure to community service, social welfare, and disability inclusion. The internship began with an orientation into the NGO's mission and day-to-day operations, followed by direct interaction with beneficiaries during educational and recreational sessions.

As the internship progressed, I participated in awareness campaigns and creative activities such as the Best Out of Waste initiative and poster-making sessions, took part in a community cleanliness drive, and supported outreach events organised with the local administration. In the final phase, I accompanied the NGO team on a beneficiary field visit and assisted in organising and analysing household survey data, gaining exposure to documentation and evidence-based social work.

Throughout the internship, I developed practical skills in communication, teamwork, leadership, problem-solving, data organisation, and community engagement, while also strengthening my empathy and understanding of the importance of an inclusive society.

Conclusion

My internship at Neev Shakti Sanstha was a valuable and enriching learning experience that allowed me to understand the real-world importance of community service, disability inclusion, and social responsibility. Through direct engagement with beneficiaries, participation in awareness and environmental activities, and exposure to survey-based social research, I gained insights that go well beyond classroom learning.

The experience helped me develop essential skills such as communication, teamwork, leadership, and analytical thinking, while also strengthening my confidence and empathy towards persons with disabilities. Overall, this internship has been a meaningful step in both my personal and professional development, and has inspired me to continue contributing positively towards community welfare in the future.

I am grateful to Neev Shakti Sanstha and to IILM University for providing me with this opportunity to learn, serve, and make a positive contribution to the community.